

Trauma and Vulnerable Children: Helping Them Heal for Educators

AN ONLINE SHORT COURSE FOR EDUCATORS

OVERVIEW

In this short course you will be introduced to children and young people living with family violence, refugee and asylum seeker experiences, children in out of home care, children living in poverty, and children impacted by the collective trauma histories of their families and communities. By the very nature of these specific experiences, it can be argued that these children and young people are vulnerable and are highly likely to be living with trauma.

You will gain insight into the needs of these children and young people who have endured complex vulnerabilities, with the unique child, positive relationships, and a strengths-based approach at the heart of practice.

KEY AREAS COVERED IN THIS COURSE

- Complex Vulnerabilities
- Culturally responsive trauma-informed practice
- Wraparound support

REGISTER ONLINE

Enrol at anytime!

ECU.EDU.AU/EDUCATION

DETAILS

The course, created by Dr Kay Ayre, is entirely online and self-paced, taking approximately 9 hours to complete. Enrol at anytime!

COST

$199.00 to undertake the course which includes all reading materials, case studies and online activities.

A 10% discount is offered to ECU alumni and for multiple bookings from the same organisation.

MORE INFORMATION

<http://www.ecu.edu.au/short-courses/education>